Ninety years young - We salute you, Flandreau

Ninety years have gone by since the seed of Flandreau was planted in this land of infinite variety. By the use of pictures of the past and the present on these end sheets, it is possible to show that this community has grown by action. Actions of men like the one to whom this yearbook is dedicated. The brains and skills and character of these people have made one of the most powerful influences on our lives. A study of the pages within this book will make one more aware of the vast importance of our heritage. It is this heritage, the little seed that was planted in 1869, that gives to all the present day Flandreau.

The Flyer is a record of the past which will help us understand the present and prepare for the future.

We present to you the people and events that tell the story of our school. You may not agree on what is the most important and what should be skipped or skimmed over so we have tried to pick and choose the most essential facts- those that will give meaning to this school year. We hope you will enjoy the FLYER, a yearly report of what has happened to us and those who shall follow in our footsteps.

The parade is made beautiful through brains and labor.

The youngsters of F. H. S., freshies, won first place in the most original division for floats with "Pluck the Tanagers."

The librarians entered with "Books the Gateway to Learning."

The juniors economized-a twenty-three cent float-"Cage the Tanagers."

"We Pick Winners" was the F. F. A.'s on home-coming day.

"FHS the Heart of Education" was favored by the judges as the most beautiful float. This giant red heart with pulsatory sides moved down the street beating its way into the heart of each on-looker. The senior class dreamed this one up.

An iron which gave forth bursts of steam represented the sophomore class in the parade.

"It's Time for a Flyer Victory" was the theme of the Yearbook float.

The regal couple-Jerry Thompson and Dottie Schult.

Pleasure has a place in good teaching.

"Tom" Collins has been out shootin' tanagers so teacher, Joe Biron isn't going to scold. That's the best skip excuse anyone could use at F. H. S.

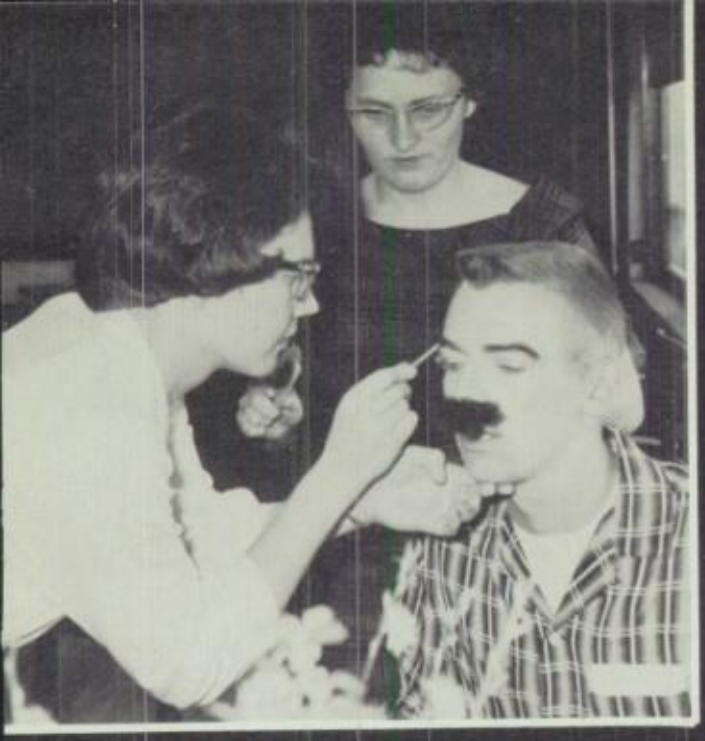
Little Pat Willard gets in line for a drink of water. Now let's see, is she five feet tall in heels?

Rosemany Erickson and Jean VanHouton reminisce.

Sandra Christensen works to pass her arithmetic examination.

It takes three seniors- Kathy Collins, Claude Jones, and Lynn Sorensen- to TRY to win from sophomore-David Peper.

Rita Donelan and Linda Schmid are pretty but tired and uncomfortable on senior dress-up day.



Noreen Johnson puts grease paint on Ron VanBuren in speech class. Judy Weigel is ready to put on some more mustache.

Prim and pretty are the five gals-Bonnie Bommersbach, Dottie Schult, Judean Snuggerud, Mary Ellen Gageby and Kathy Collins-who are responsible for directing a lot of school spirit to worth-while channels.

In telling our story we start with the basics.

Richard Whitman struggles for victory.

Dale Bisson proves that seniors do study.

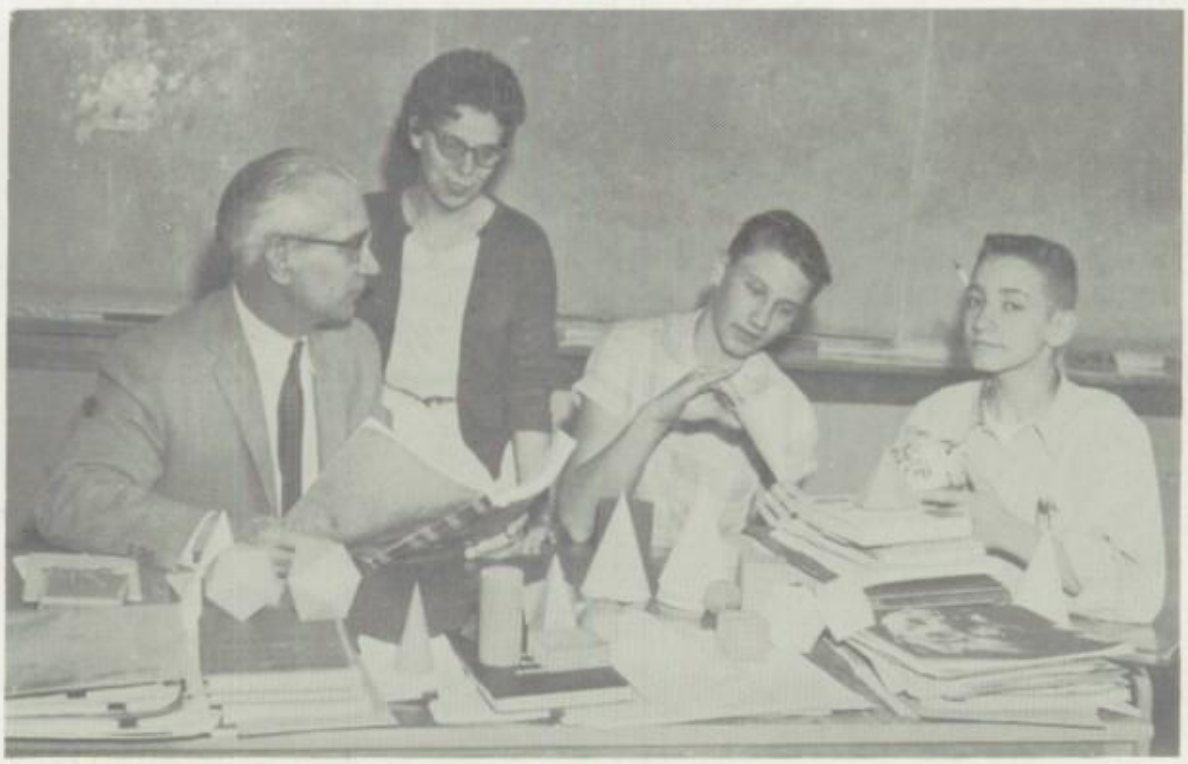
Algebra

Algebra is fun for Larry Barron, LaVonne Otto, and Tom Jewett as Principal William Hass teaches it

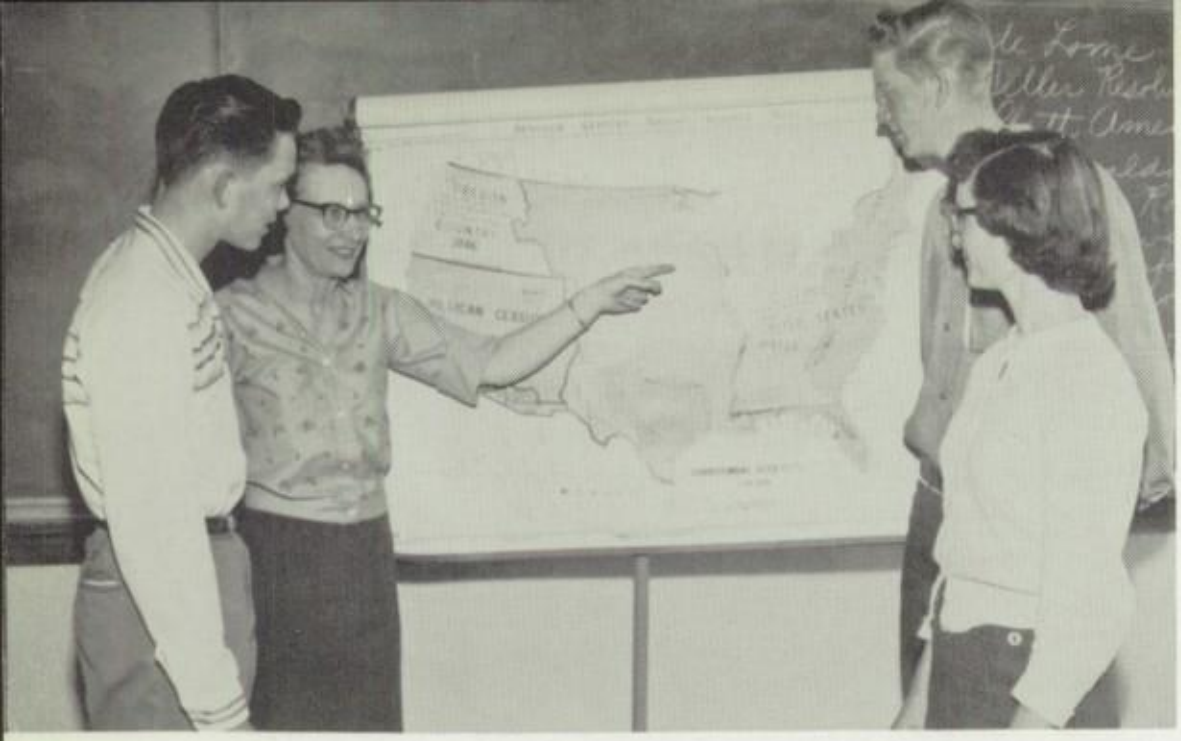


Geometry

Mr. Charles Prochaska helps the geometry students-Alice Fenske, Lloyd Duncan, Roger Bommersbach-understand geometric figures.

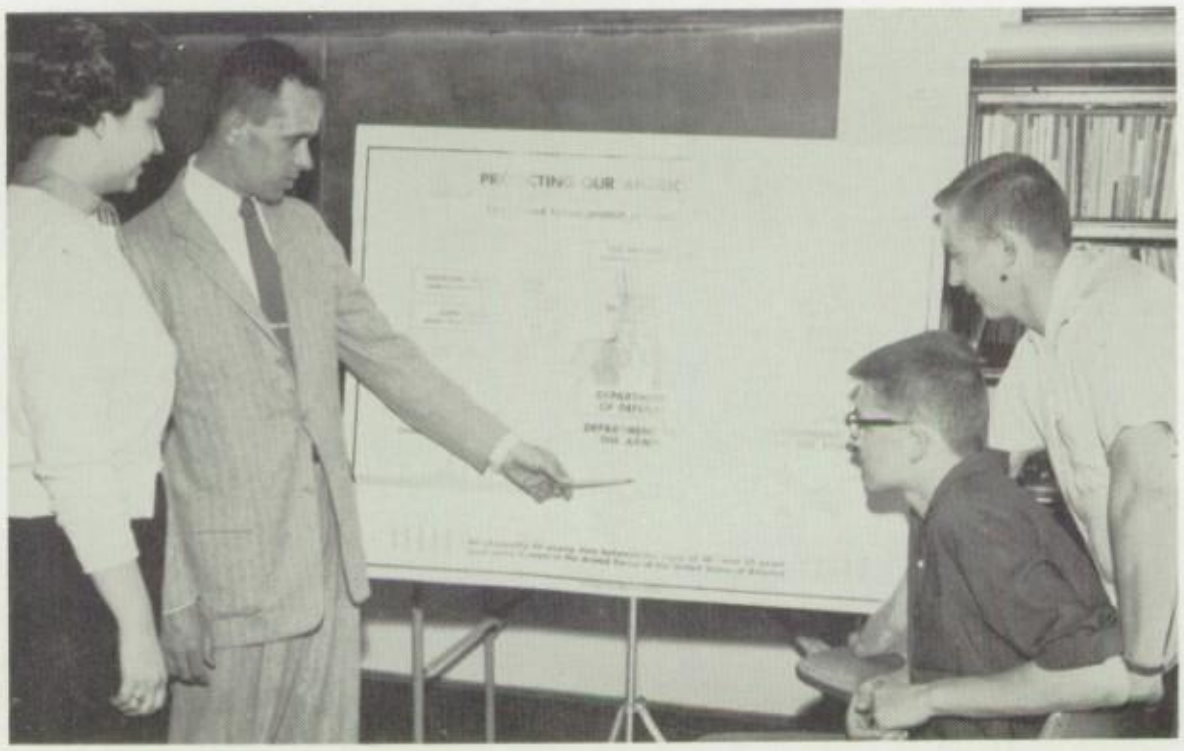
Biology

Now in the know about frogs are Guy Erickson, Ron Hammer, Janice Dahl, and Paul Phelan who are members of Mr. Ralph Cook's biology class.



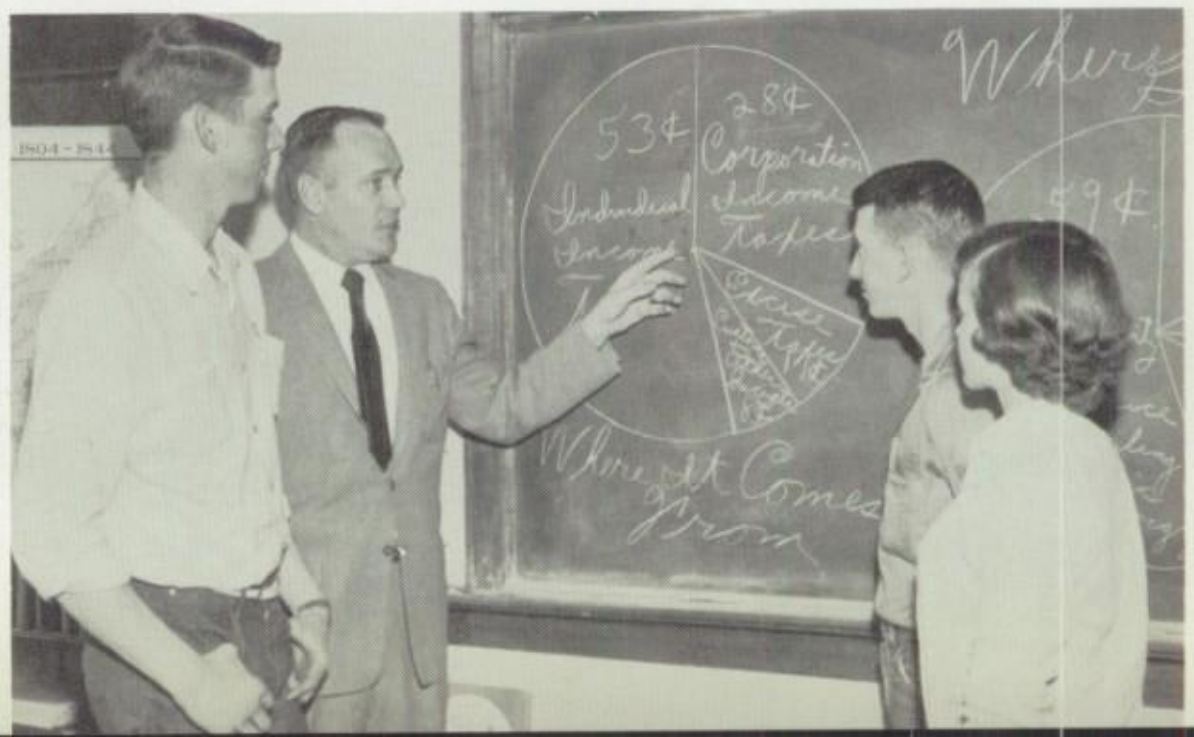
American History

American history students-Mike Phelan, Roger Johnson, and Evelyn Nissen- are told about territorial acquisition by teacher-Mrs. Solveig Rewalt.



Government

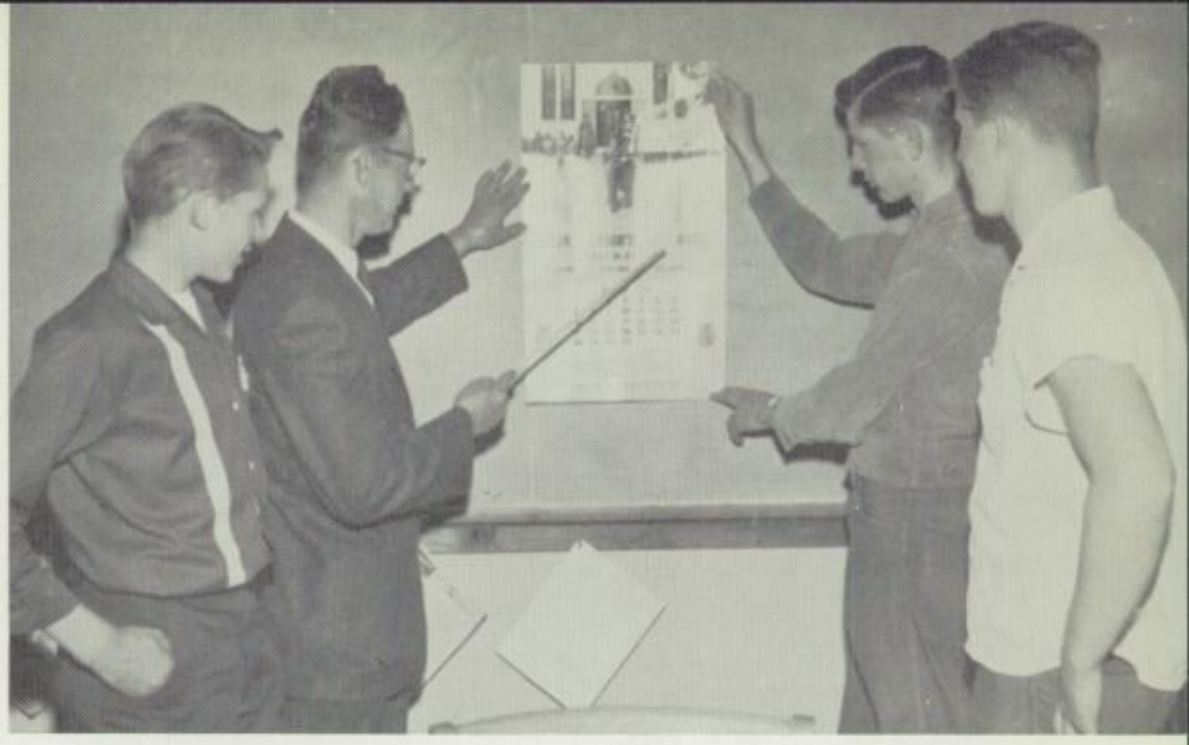
Mr. Don Brosz explains the department of defense to Loye Johnson, Ron Smith, and Jim Johnson in government class.



Economics

Mr. Merril Olson, economics teacher shows Darrell Pulscher, John Wilkins, and Patty Willard where money goes and comes.

Agriculture



"This space could be sold to a sponsor of our calendar," were the words of Mr. Sylvan Vigness as he told Jim Peper, Loren Blankenhorn, and Loren Leslie about the year's plans in vocational agriculture.

Bookkeeping

Mr. Elden Samp instructs Jerry Hiller, Rita Donelon, Ida Redwing, and Jim Peper in bookkeeping.

Home Economics

What makes baked goods good? Kathy Gullickson, Janice Dahl, Sharen Nass, and Donna Price observe as Mrs. Irene Engstrom evaluates cakes and breads in home economics class.

English II

Shakespeare's Julius Caesar is explained by Mrs. Lillie Rice to Roger Johnson, Bill Halter, and Judy Klingbile who are English II students.

English III

English III students- Chuck Rewalt, John Vanderhoof, and Judy Weigle- find that poetry can be interesting as Miss Audrae Visser points out the meter of iambic verse.

Mrs. Margaret Ratliff asks Sharon Kemp, "Who was buried in Grant's tomb?" Larry Headrick and Gary Scofield wait for a chance to answer in English I class.

Speech

"It is you, John Vanderhoof, you who are to blame," shouts Sheila McGlone as Miss Gloria Hause forces a gesture on the statement. Dan Daily and Mary Vanderhoof seem to enjoy the discomfort of speech class.

Superintendent George Webbenhurst exposes the truths about flat tires to Audrey Nisson, Dorothy Johnson, and Estella Crow-driver education course.

Drivers Education

Commercial

Mr. Duane Podoll helps Larry Ehrichs get untangled from the typewriter ribbon. This is something that does not happen to girls think Nancy Estergaard and George Ann Faris-typing students.

General Science

That water just won't boil, will it, Mary Weigel? Sally Scofield, Patty Dawson, and Mark Ekern wait hopefully for Mr. Roger Kern's laboratory experiment in general science to work.

Freshmen build up their knowledge.

Class President, Larry Headrick; vice-president, Mary Lynne Reid; secretary, Marlene Hammer; treasurer, Pat Dawson; and student representative successfully lead the freshmen through "Hillbilly Hit Parade" for Little Orpheum.

Under the direction of coach, Roger Kerns, these members of the varsity football team come back to F. H. S. one week early in the fall for practice. The boys know the bone-crushing jolt of a jarring tackle, the countless exercises, long practice in heavy equipment, and the heat or chill of the autumn evenings. They know the discouragement of defeat as well as the taste of victory. They love the game and when the season is over, they are both relieved and sorry. Co-captains for the year are Richard Whitman and Leroy Benson.

Roger.
I see your had to learn how to swim.
Must have been fun.
Good luck Dave
